

That was 'Tasting with Respect' at VieVinum 2018

The respekt-BIODYN winemaker's association invited wine professionals to a top-class wine tasting during the VieVinum wine trade fair in Vienna. Over a hundred international guests from the wine trade and press were convinced by the high quality of their wines.

Vienna, 15 June 2018

There were enthusiastic voices and invitations for the group all the way to Beijing following the "Tasting with Respect" presentation by the respekt-BIODYN winemaker's association, as led by Stephan Reinhardt, Robert Parker's expert for the German-speaking market. Together with eleven of the twenty-two vintners and over a hundred international guests from the wine trade and trade press, he tasted a representative wine from each winery and was impressed by their high quality: "The respekt producers make wines that express their points of origin, and aren't oriented towards the market. Their wines are very, very authentic and lively, need a little engagement, and are fun. You can only make these wines with biodynamics, I am convinced of that!"

"We had an unbelievably big buzz around our tasting, which was fully booked within a short time. What a wonderful confirmation of our work and our wines. We will certainly also be holding a 'Tasting with Respect' at VieVinum 2020", says respekt chairman Michael Goëss-Enzenberg from the South Tyrolean Manincor winery.

The list of all the wines in the tasting can be found on page 3.

respekt-BIODYN. respekt-BIODYN is a biodynamic association with the aim of producing outstanding wines with the highest possible individuality. respekt-BIODYN is based in Austria and has twenty-two members from Germany, Italy, Austria, and Hungary. They cultivate a total vineyard area of 718 hectares, and their working method is a biodynamic circular economy according to the ideas of Rudolf Steiner. The association was founded in 2007.

The respekt guidelines. In 2016, the strict respekt guidelines, containing aspects of modern agroecology and social, ecological, and economic sustainability, were revised. They can be viewed on the association's website, and are monitored by independent European inspection bodies. They go far beyond EU organic regulations.
